What happens after I book a Studio Session?

If we haven't already connected prior to you booking, we'll contact you within one business day to organise payment, revise your scripts to ensure they are film-ready and run you through everything you need to know before the cameras start rolling.

Can we customise the look of my videos?

Absolutely! We work with you before filming takes place, to ensure what is filmed aligns with your already established branding. This might mean a specific backdrop colour, a styled background or a theme that represents your brand.

Do you write the scripts for me?

You know better than anyone what you'd like to say, which is why (if your pack requires a script) we're happy to revise and collaborate with you on the scripts that you write, to ensure they will translate to the screen well.

Do I need a hair & makeup artist?

A hair and/or makeup artist is not always necessary; however film lights can occasionally exaggerate skin shine, so it may be recommended to engage a makeup artist to apply softening makeup before the shoot. We can provide a list of recommended vendors on request.

What do I wear?

Wear what makes you feel confident! That's priority numero uno. Logistically however, we love to stay away from finely striped or chequered clothing as this can cause issues on smaller screens. We also recommend bringing multiple outfits and options to see what works best on screen and give diversity across multiple videos.
